A New Role For The Parking Lot Worship Stage

Stephen Goodnough

All the world is a stage! And now our kids can sharpen up their acting skills on our NEW repurposed performance stage.

Rather than scrap the "Covid pulpit," the idea to move it and make it a stage was approved by council.

Mark Brosch and Charles Demosthenes used their engineering minds and can-do attitude and moved it to its new home.

Call Committee Update

Emily Glass Stinson

As we continue in our journey to call a new pastor, we will be providing regular updates to the congregation. Here is the latest update:

The council has approved the Call Committee's draft of the Mission Site Profile, and the MSP has been submitted to the synod. The synod will be in touch with our first slate of candidates in the coming weeks.

Faith Formation + Serving

Welcome to God's Family!

Sharon Leon, Director of Children's Ministry

Amelia & Hana, daughters of John Eric Roberts and Tomoko Yasue, were baptized on Sunday, May 28. They are the granddaughters of Hannelore Herndon.

See what great love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! And that is what we are!

YELLS in the News

George O'Donnell

LCR mission partner YELLS (Youth Empowerment through Learning, Leading and Serving) was recently featured in a segment on Channel 11 highlighting the work they are doing to prevent gang violence and offer older students the opportunity to mentor younger students.

Is This Your Sign?

Mark Brosch

There are so many different ways that help is needed on a regular basis at LCR. One that is very visible to the community around us is our road sign. Upgrading the sign has been a topic the council has begun to address, but any change is still well into the future.

In the meantime, there is a need to change the sign message on a regular basis. It is easy to do, very little training required, and is even something that could be a family project. No need to be creative as Pastor Ruth will provide the message that needs to be posted.

Please consider helping with this important task so LCR presents a favorable impression to everyone that drives by. Ideally, there would be at least four "teams" established which would mean taking care of the sign one time per month. Contact Pastor Ruth or Sigrid if you are able to help.

Be part of sharing Good News

God is up to some beautiful things in our community and world through the work of Lutheran Church of the Resurrection. Want to be part of sharing those good news stories in a world filled with heartache and chaos?

We are looking for folks to join our Story Corps Team to write stories and take photos of Resurrection ministries and events. Interested? Contact Pastor Ruth.

Calling All Bookworms

Sandy Brosch

Do you like to read? Do you like free books? Stop by the Gathering Room over the next few Sundays and take as many books as you want.

As part of the clean up at LCR, the library has undergone an extensive sorting. Most of the books have not been looked at for years. Several loads were taken to the Half Price Bookstore; money will be donated to a cause at the church. We will be keeping the Bible commentaries, Martin Luther books, Bible Study DVD's and guides, and a few others.

So, please come by and bring your children as there are children's books as well.
